

NOVELIST ALEXIS HARRINGTON'S MUCH-ANTICIPATED HOME BY NIGHTFALL, HER FIRST ORIGINAL BOOK FOR MONTLAKE ROMANCE, HAS JUST BEEN PUBLISHED AS BOTH A PRINT AND E-BOOK

HOME BY NIGHTFALL Returns to the Town and People of Powell Springs where a Struggle Between Loyalty and Love Threatens to Destroy a Family

"An entertaining read for a lazy summer afternoon."

—Kat Martin, New York Times bestselling author

Praise for Home by Morning—

"Brave. Heartfelt. Incredible . . . an emotional story filled with honest, raw characters, biting treachery and abiding love. I couldn't put it down."

— Lisa Jackson, New York Times bestselling author

"The author creates a rich, complex world for readers. Meanwhile, Jessica struggles with society's expectations of gender roles, career choices and personal needs. As she evolves, backtracks and tries to find her way, the town and its inhabitants react and change with her. The tale is beautiful in every dark detail and bright moment of hope."

—RT Book Reviews

"The balance between the romance and history is perfect... Thank you, Ms. Harrington."

—All About Romance on Home by Morning

"The story has three threads that author Harrington skillfully weaves into a cohesive tapestry...the ending...will surprise you...I had a lump in my throat and tears in my eyes...a masterful storyteller, using skillful writing, great dialogue and wonderful imagery. This is a must-read book and an informative look into a period in history that seems glossed over. Brava Ms. Harrington for sharing your enormous talent in this superb story. A strong five stars."

—Café Libri

"A well-told romance story but also a historical novel in the sense of the war and the illness, two major events that drive the plot of this adventurous, action-packed yet endearing story!!! Very nicely done, Ms. Harrington!"

—Crystal Book Reviews

When Alexis Harrington celebrated the publication of her first book in 1994, she wasn't at all certain she she'd be able to maintain a career as a full time writer. Now, she's the author of thirteen novels, is successfully navigating publishing's e-revolution, is one of Montlake Romance's bestselling authors, and is marking the publication of her new book, HOME BY NIGHTFALL.

HOME BY NIGHTFALL returns readers to the small Oregon town of Powell Springs, the setting of Harrington's highly praised Home by Morning, which introduced the Braddock family and others in the town struggling on the home front at the end of WWI as the flu pandemic rages around the world. There, Susannah Braddock has made peace with the loss of her soldier husband, Riley, who died in France. She's been looking after Riley's father and running the family's horse farm with the help of hired hand Tanner Grenfell. When their friendship turns to love, they marry, committing their lives to running the farm and raising Tanner's two young nephews.

Their happiness is short lived. Two years after being reported dead, Riley Braddock returns home, shell-shocked and with no knowledge of his life before the war. All he can remember is Veronique, the French woman who rescued him and nursed him back to health. Plagued by memories and nightmares of the war, he has returned to a life and a wife he no longer knows. The joy of his family is not enough to heal his wounds. For Susannah, the best intentions of her brother and sister-in-law and the outright resentment and animosity of the Riley's irascible father cause her even more anguish as she is torn between her love for Tanner and her loyalty to Riley.

Once again, Alexis Harrington presents a story of individuals facing extraordinary circumstances, and their struggle to make way for the healing power of love.

ABOUT ALEXIS HARRINGTON

Historical novelist Alexis Harrington has entertained readers since her first book was published in 1994. She has been spinning tales of characters and situations that include mail order brides, the Yukon Gold Rush, seafaring, ranching, and protagonists heading west ever since. Her latest, HOME BY NIGHTFALL was published July 3, 2012. It follows Home by Morning the first of her books published originally as an e-book.

Since that first novel, Homeward Hearts, was published, Alexis has written and published twelve more books, all historical romances. They include Homeward Hearts, A Light for My Love, A Taste of Heaven, Desperate Hearts, and Harper's Bride, originally published by New American Library (NAL). Her novels Allie's Moon, Montana Born and Bred, The Bridal Veil and The Irish Bride were published by St. Martin's Press. Alexis self-published Home by Morning, which was then acquired along with HOME BY NIGHTFALL by Montlake Romance.

Alexis lives in the Pacific Northwest near the Columbia River within ten miles of her old high school. She has numerous pets, including three chickens. In addition to being a writer for the past twenty years, she makes jewelry, is a fine needlework artist specializing in embroidery, thread crochet and sewing. She enjoys cooking, reading, entertaining, and decorating, and is a lover of all things Victorian. She is currently at work on her next book.
